

ENTRY FEES

You will need to set your entry fees relative to the costs of your competition. If you are a TRECGB member club then TRECGB's insurance will cover your competition. You may accept entries from Red members and from members of any affiliated TRECGB club. You may wish to charge your own members a reduced entry fee. If you wish to accept entries from competitors who fall into neither of these categories then you need to charge them a fee (in addition to the normal entry fee) to provide them with day (or 2 day) membership of your club. Alternatively you need to ask them to provide evidence of their own public liability policy.

If you are not a TRECGB member club then you will be running your competition under your own insurance.
