Revision	1

There will be occasions where the dates of competitions need to be considered in line with other commitments within the TREC GB calendar. This process has been written to enable a fair and robust method to be followed when dates for summer series competitions are requested.

This process is designed to ensure that competitions will have a minimal impact on other TREC GB events and will consider location, the levels being run and any other relevant information.

In the event of a date clash the first step is for both organisers to be made aware of, and if required discuss together, any date clashes which may impact on their competition. This is especially important as TREC competitions are volunteer intensive and most clubs have limited support when running competitions.
